Dear Classmates:

It's hard to believe that 40 years have passed since we walked across the stage and received our Upper Arlington High School diplomas. That summer of 1969, we were hatching our life plans, starting our journey of discovery, and ready to conquer the world. In high school we became friends, studied together, learned from one another, competed against one another for grades and on athletic fields, and even viewed some of our classmates romantically. For many of us, much was given and much was expected. Our class had talent, beauty, and brains. Read what people are reporting about themselves on UA69.com in the "Then & Now" section.

Why are our lives racing now, when time seemed to move at a glacial pace in high school? So much has happened and we are leading lives rich in many ways. We've earned the right to be nostalgic about our early years and we have changed and grown wiser.

This July it's time to renew friendships by celebrating what we have created and laughing about our fate. As we move into this season of our lives some believe that the bond we share from growing up in the same place and sharing our childhoods is even stronger. Like birds flying home for the winter it is time for us to reconvene in our tribal homeland of Upper Arlington once again.

Each classmate should have received the initial letter in early February. The letter you are reading and its attachments are the last printed communication you will receive about our reunion. From now on, our class web site is the center for all communication. Visit ua69.com frequently for the latest reunion information and any last minute changes. Please also visit the Messageboard, where you can start or join a conversation!

We have a great line-up of events on the second page of this letter. On page three, tell us which events you are attending, make a donation, and pay for everything. Please help defer costs of the reunion and help other classmates by sponsoring something or donating to the Friendship Fund. If you'd like to help with the reunion, please contact me at pdynes@cox.net or call 703-946-4855 (cell).

I'm honored to be associated with all of you and celebrate our eighth reunion.

Hope to see you in July!

Patrick Dynes
