Cheerleaders Attend Camp; Ready for Winning Year

Behind the team's efforts lie the spirit and enthusiasm of the crowd, and Upper Arlington's cheerleaders have been practicing all summer to bring out the crowd's cheering and to boost the Bears to victory.

The seven girls spent five days at cheerleading camp in Ferrum, Virginia; where, aside from picking up a few new pranks, they learned some straight-arm or "stick cheers."

"The straight-arm cheers looked funny to us at first," says senior cheerleader Susie Dones, "but I like them much better now, because I think the crowd will really yell with us when we do them."

And so the cheerleaders and the alternates learn new cheers and improve old ones; and they look forward to the Lancaster game as the start of the season, saying, "We can 'Bearly' wait to get in and cheer UA on to victory."
